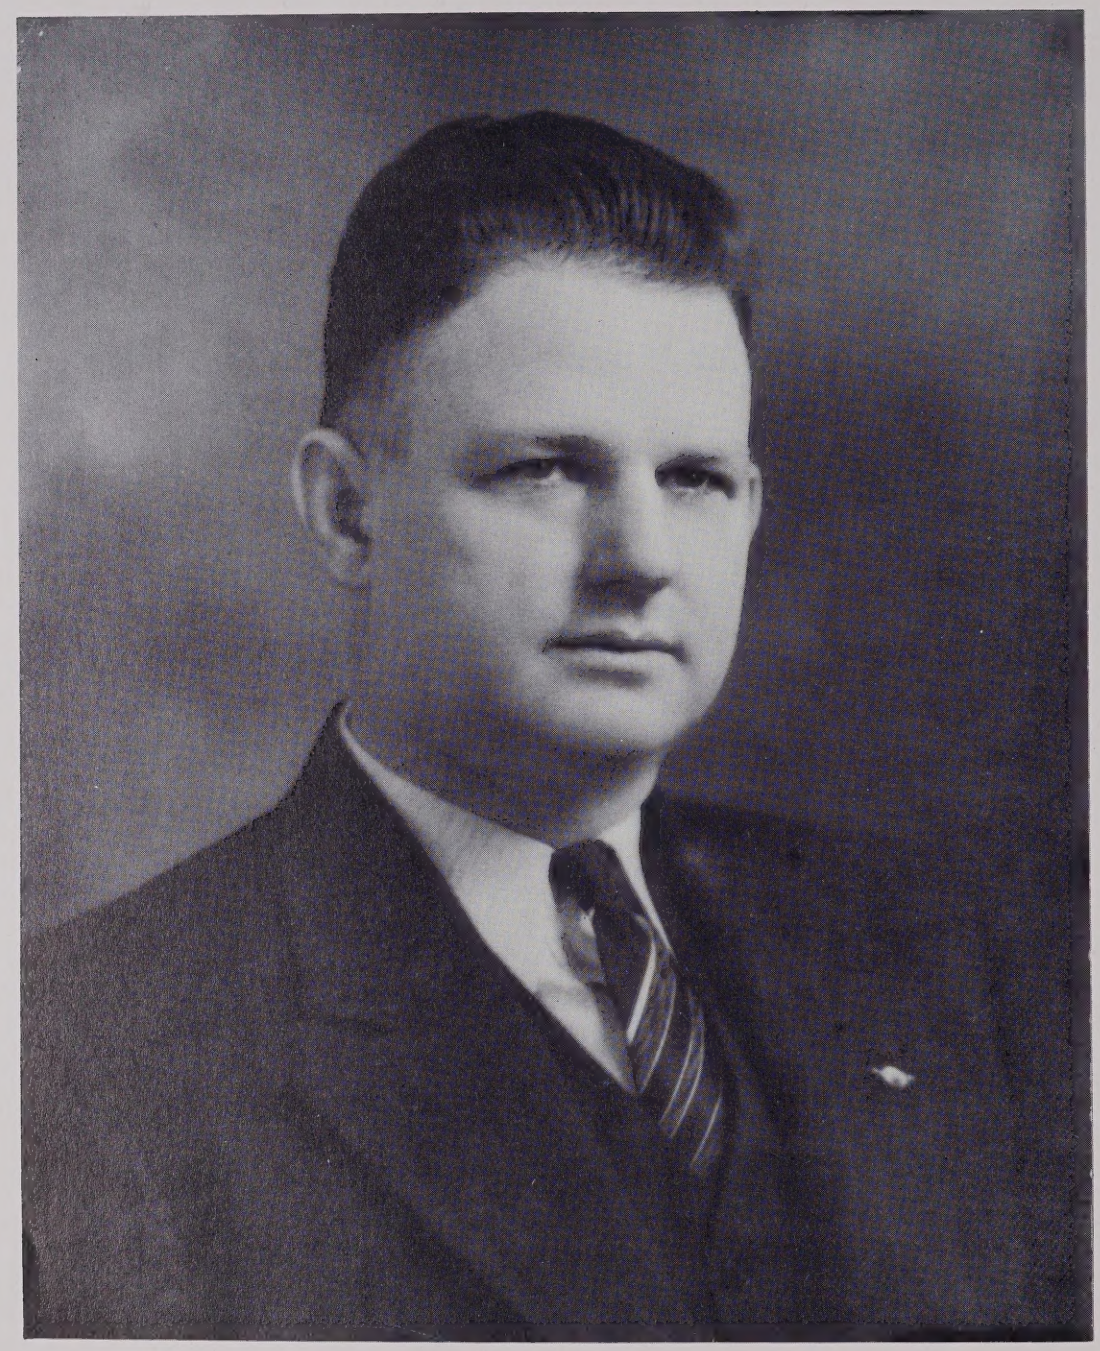
A Tribute .....



CLARENCE VERNON LAEL
1896-1953

Mr. C. V. Lael was born in Taylorsville, North Carolina, April 18, 1896. He attended Lenoir Rhyne College. For thirty years he was a resident of Glen Alpine. Mr. Lael was an active member of the Glen Alpine Methodist Church, having served on the Board of Stewards. Being interested in the welfare of the Glen Alpine Schools, he served on the Board of Trustees for twenty years. He was a member of the Morganton Kiwanis Club and a 32nd Degree Mason.

Class History

Smiling, but with a certain feeling of nostalgia, the high school girl in cap and gown stepped up to receive her diploma. The long-awaited moment had come! She had reached her ultimate goal—the goal she had been working toward for twelve years. But now, with her destination at hand, the realization suddenly dawned on her that she would soon be leaving high school and embarking on an entirely new venture in life. Things that had always been taken for granted, that had seemed relatively unimportant at the time, suddenly assumed larger proportions.

Her mind wandered back to the time when she and her classmates entered the first grade--a lovable, but very mischievous group of youngsters. Smiling to herself, she remembered how every afternoon about ten minutes before the bell rang, just as regularly as the clock, big tears could be seen rolling down poor little Sue Dale's cheeks. Yes, you guessed it! Someone had hidden her crayons.

Her thoughts slipping forward several years, she remembered eighth grade graduation day and all the fun the class had practicing their program. She suppressed a giggle when she thought of the day when the whole class had to practice getting up and sitting down for about an hour because they couldn't seem to rise properly enough to suit the teachers.

Then, before they knew it, they became a class of lowly freshmen in high school. But they certainly didn't feel so lowly, as she remembered. It was just the other way around!

The years passed swiftly, and her thoughts, slipping forward again, rested on that all-important occasion—the Junior-Senior Banquet. The theme for the banquet, she recalled, was "Treasure Island," and a very appropriate one she thought, for she knew that that occasion would always remain a treasure in the memories of her classmates. The only disconcerting note in the banquet, as Glen Dale would say, was the fact that his ham was just a trifle tough—a situation which was soon remedied by a few well-placed strokes of his pocket knife.

Her mind was filled with memories of other such happy times—the Washington trip, the trip to Asheville, Class Night, football and basketball games—when a whisper from one of her classmates brought her back to the present, and to thoughts of the future. She wondered what the future held in store for her and her classmates, and hoped that it held success and happiness for all of them, as they embarked on their "high adventure."

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1955, being of weak minds and unsound constitutions, do hereby make just and improper disposition of all our goods. We declare this our last will and testament hereby revoking any or all wills by us before made. We hereby bequeath the following effects and characteristics to various underclassmen:

I, Jack Danielle, leave my small feet to Paul Harvey Gibbs.
I, Larry Scott, leave my position as captain of the football squad to Donnie Williams.
I, James Baker, bequeath my drawing ability to Carolyn Saulman.
I, Lenora Ann Black, bequeath my alert brains to Leatha Patton.
I, Nancy Kiser, leave my cuteness to Clara Jean Patton.
I, Faye Bailey, leave my "best-all-around ways" to Janice Anderson.
I, Louie Hawkins, leave my "easily-riled-up manner" to J. C. Fox.
I, Max Hutchins, leave my cuteness to Rudolph Queen.
I, Carol Brown, bequeath all my talents to Loretta Lane.
I, Jerry Jenkins, leave my bashfulness to Gene Prestwood.
I, Glen Dale, leave my ability to speak so well to Glenn Reep.
I, Louise McGalliard, leave my giggles to Nancy Pitts.
I, Bob Taylor, leave my "outlaw ways" to Bob Fox.
I, Nancy Ellen Dale, will my witticisms to Frances Fox.
I, Doris Brown, bequeath my quiet, sweet ways to Franda Gibbs.
I, Ralph Reep, leave my height to Harold "Shorty" Hall.
I, Nancy Sue Dale, leave my flirty, popular ways to Barbara Williams.
I, Juanita Queen, leave my dependability to Mary White.
I, Betty Sue Ross, leave my easy going ways to Hilda Wells.
I, Ray Taylor, leave my ability to dance to Everette Pollard.
I, Kenneth Cuthbertson, leave my beautiful hair to Robert Pritchard.
I, Charles Morgan, leave, or at least I hope so, Glen Alpine High School.
I, Billy Puett, leave my ability to hold a girl to anyone who wants to go steady.
I, Jane Graham, leave my cute curves to Barbara Taylor.
I, Winnie Browning, will my friendliness to Dottee Giles.
I, Harold Mabe, leave my worn-out pencils to the Senior Class of 1956.
I, Doris Fox, bequeath my basketball ability to Jackie Morris.
I, Nancy Beach, leave my sweet personality to Libby Giles.
I, Edith Browning, leave all of my old boyfriends to Lola Jean Sisk.
I, Ralph Beach, leave my well-dressed manner to Kenneth Bivens.
I, Paul Dellinger, leave my "D's" in English to Benny Fleming.
I, Beatrice Fisher, bequeath my charm to Sylvia Williams.
I, Clarence Poteat, will my ability to get along with the teachers to Buster Benfield.
I, Dorothy Martin, leave my sweet disposition to Edith Puett.
I, Homer Rumfelt, leave my flirty ways to Clifford Mann.
I, Adeline Powell, bequeath my hard-working ways to Martha Franklin.
I, Harold White, leave my position as bus driver to John David Dale.
I, Lois Stillwell, leave my good looks to Shirley Lane.
I, Pansy Holland, leave my ability to get and hold a man to any girl who can. (It's wonderful!)
And in closing, I, Bobby Puett, am afraid to leave anything because I will probably need all I have.

Class Prophecy

"But I don't believe that it's real. It's not possible!"

"You just come on in and I will show you that I can really take you ten years into the future and we'll see your classmates."

"And you can take me with you and I can see them and. . ."

"Come! You waste my time. I have no time for foolishness."

Wonderingly, I followed this strange-looking woman into a wierd, dimly-lighted room. The woman switched on a light and there I beheld the funniest looking little spoon-shaped article. The woman, whose name was Salowtomel, told me to get in.

"What! ? Get in that thing? That's absurd!"

"Oh, is it?" she asked with a funny gleam in her eyes.

Then to my amazement, I noticed that we were not even as big as midgets. We got in the spoon which was called Gal Lopper by Salowtomel. It had only two seats and a small window in front and one on each side.

"We're off!" shouted Salowtomel with a press of a button and a wave of her hand. The next thing I knew, we were flying through the sky at many miles per hour.

Presently I smelled do-nuts and requested Salowtomel to stop. She didn't answer. Instead, she began making some of the queerest signs I've ever seen. I guess it was some special sign language of her own, but it worked! !

As soon as we got out of Gal Lopper we regained our normal stature.

I was delighted to find that Betty Sue Ross and Adeline Powell were doing very well at that business. They loaded us with do-nuts and sent us on our happy way.

We stopped in New York and I was having some dresses modeled. One of the models was Doris Brown, a striking blonde. She told me that Dorothy Martin was now a bookkeeper upstairs. I had a short chat with Dorothy and she told me that Nancy Beach was now manager and co-owner of a very hoity-toity ladies' shop just down the street a few doors. After a short talk with Nancy, we resumed our journey.

I happened to glance down just as we were passing over a large mansion where many cars were parked. I asked Salowtomel to please stop.

I was looking around when someone called my name.

"Carol!! . . . ."

"Huh?! . . . Why, Bob Puett, what are you doing here?" I asked.

"Oh, this is where Jane Graham lives. She's giving a big party tonight. She's quite the socialite now, you know," he replied.

I followed him and he led me straight to Jane. Together we went over to see James Baker and Juanita Queen. Juanita was a well-known interior decorator and James turned out to be a French professor. Bob Puett was a famous T. V. actor.

"Do you remember Homer Rumfelt?" asked Jane. "He has a huge chicken farm now."

Salowtomel and I went on down the country to a circus. We noticed a sign which read, "THE WORLD'S FATTEST WOMAN---LOU OLLIE!!" I went in to look at her, but I got more than I bargained for. To my great astonishment and embarrassment, she grabbed me and almost chrushed every bone in my body.

"Hey, what the. . .! ?"

"Carol, don't you remember me. . . .Louise McGalliard?"

Well, I did remember Louise, but not like this! She told me that Ralph Reep was over in a nearby tent. I was surprised to see that he was a regular "Tarzan." Just then a circus truck drove up, driven by Paul Dellinger. He said it was just one of a fleet owned by Glen Dale and Ramona Long. Paul said he came over to tell Ralph and Louise about the exhibition on billiards playing that Bob Taylor was giving.

The next day, at a reunion I had read about in the newspaper, I saw many of the friends that I had graduated with. There were Ralph Beach, celebrated jet pilot, Nancy Kiser, dress designer, Doris Fox, coach of girls' sports at a large high school, and Kenneth Cuthbertson, construction engineer. Also present were Clarence Poteat, vice-president of the Carbon Plant, Sue Dale and Lois Stillwell, both T. V. models for a rye-bread called "Trim and Slim," Jack Danielle, star sports reporter for a big name newspaper and Lenora Ann Black, research worker on a new explosive called DKXZ. Harold Mabe was working on his theory that the earth is flat. Louie Hawkins and Bill Puett discovered a strange new planet called Billoo.

Jerry Jenkins, U. S. ambassador to the Philippines, and Larry Scott, owner of a professional football team, were the principal speakers. Edith and Winnie Browning told of their experiences with orphaned children and Ray Taylor told amusing stories of his life in the Navy. Also present were Faye Bailey, florist shop owner, Harold White, car dealer, Beatrice Fisher, first grade teacher, Red Morgan, director of T. V. plays and Pansy Holland, mother of four lovely children.

We all enjoyed a delightful meal prepared for us by Max Hutchins, chief chef of the Stork Club.

Salowtomel and I got situated in Gal Lopper and started for home. It was quite an experience for me and I shall never forget it. By the way, if you're interested, Salowtomel's full name is Salowtomel Zuaxac Dakelz and her address is 60000099 Eccentric Street, Kalamazoo 93, Pennsyletucky. Call her sometime!!!! The results might be surprising!!!!
